

Men generally earns more than women and dominate the top percentile.

The 2020 county level median income of men is higher than that of women at nearly all percentile level.

Sources: Social Determinants of Health Database