

Education Reduces Gender Inequality in Employment

Disparity between men and women is the largest among people with below upper secondary education

